

Engineering Insurance

Engineers are responsible for some of the greatest inventions and technology the world depends on.

Everything from space shuttles to air conditioning systems, to bridges and buildings requires the work of an engineer. Such great responsibility should be backed up with a comprehensive insurance policy.

We understand the role of the engineer is varied and exhaustive. From research and development to specification, design and manufacture, contract preparation and asset management, it's important that your insurance is just as broad.

Whether you operate in the mechanical, electrical, chemical, civil, or environmental sector, engineers are particularly susceptible to a wide variety of risks and should have an appropriate insurance policy in place before taking on a project. PSC Connect Authorised Representatives are able to work with insurers to arrange insurance policies that cover important business exposures, such as errors and omissions, third party liability, loss of profits and outstanding debts.

As an Engineer, you require protection not only for your client, but also for contractors, future purchasers of the building or construction and anyone injured due to an alleged deficiency in your work. Your engineering business is unique, however regardless of your area of specialisation, occupational health and safety risks also need to be protected.

Our experienced brokers will work closely with you to identify the particular risks associated with your projects, to source suitable cover at a competitive price.

As an Authorised Representative of PSC Connect, we are part of PSC Insurance Brokers, Australia's largest privately owned insurance network. With offices around the country, we can call on 400 staff to help us help you.

That means we've got more to offer you and help you negotiate your way through your insurance. Whether that's just working with you to understand your business and the range of risks that are unique to your business, through to using our considerable buying power to negotiate with insurers on your behalf.
